

Floating Rate Individual Retirement Account Certificate of Deposit Basic Terms and Conditions

Minimum Deposit to Open Account	$100
Term	18 Months. The Certificate of Deposit Receipt will show the maturity date.
Interest Compounding Method	Interest is compounded daily and begins to accrue on the business day the funds are deposited.
Interest Rate	Interest rate and annual percentage yield can change. The rate will be set the first day of each calendar month and will remain in effect through month end. The rate is set at the discretion of the bank.
Interest Payment Options	You have the option to have interest credited to the IRA CD in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Monthly • Quarterly • Semi-annually • Annually (if term is 12 months or greater) • At maturity (if term is 12 months or less) If you do not select an option, interest will be credited to the IRA account semi-annually.
Transaction Limits and Withdrawals During Account Term	Additional deposits of $50 or more may be made to this account at any time, up to the current IRS annual contribution limits. Withdrawals (principal or interest) made from any IRA CD will reduce earnings and the annual percentage yield and may be subject to additional federal penalties. A reduction from principal will be made when necessary to fulfill the penalty for early withdrawal. (Please refer to the Early Withdrawal Penalty section below or the Personal Products Deposit Account Disclosure for complete details.)
Traditional IRA Description	Traditional IRAs are individual (solely owned) tax-deferred savings plans for retirement, available to all persons earning compensation. Two advantages of a Traditional IRA are: you may be able to deduct some or all of your contributions, depending on your circumstances; and generally, amounts in your IRA, including earnings, are not taxed until they are withdrawn. Withdrawals may be subject to federal and state tax penalties; contact your tax advisor for information.
Roth IRA Description	A Roth IRA plan helps individuals save for retirement and other needs with the potential for tax-free earnings. Contributions can be made to a Roth IRA as long as you have earned income at least equal to your IRA contribution. Although contributions are not tax deductible, earnings are completely tax-free, provided that you follow the legal guidelines. Withdrawals may be subject to federal and state tax penalties; contact your tax advisor for information.
IRA Servicing Fee	A $30 servicing/closing fee will be assessed on IRA transfers, rollovers or early closures. This fee will be assessed against the account during the entire term, including the maturity period. The $30 servicing fee is not waived for negotiated rate or term changes on an existing Washington Trust Bank certificate outside of the grace period.
Renewal Policy	Your account will renew automatically to the original term unless the bank gives notice prior to any maturity date that it will not renew. There is a grace period of ten (10) calendar days after the maturity date during which funds may be withdrawn without penalty. If the account is allowed to renew automatically, all interest paid into the account becomes part of the principal on the renewal date and, unless designated otherwise, is not available for withdrawal during the new term without penalty. The rate of interest at renewal will be the rate applicable to the same type of Certificate of Deposit. Funds withdrawn during the grace period will not accrue interest.
